I started my piano tuning business 1996 after qualifying at the London Guildhall University, where I trained for three years. I generally cover an area within thirty miles of my home in Caversham including the M4 corridor and I frequently travel to London to perform concert tunings. My piano tuning business is founded on old-fashioned values of quality service and attention to detail. We provide short term hire, such as a concert, musical events, exams, corporate events, recording studios and weddings. We also provide long term hire please visit our website for more details see the website link above
